

CONTROL SYSTEMS, ELECTRICAL CONTROL PANELS

Backer's steering panels are developed to improve communication between consumer and final system. The maintenance of the product is easy; it doesn't require specialist knowledge or skill. All functions are accessible from simple interface which provides simple ways of control for a wide range of products.

BACKER

Material	Galvanized steel Stainless steel Plastic	Connection	The panels are ready to install by different types of connections, cables and terminals; modular and flat cables, receptacles, round pins, edge connectors etc.
Dimension	According to customer requirements and dependent on function	Control/quality	Every panel is tested electrically according to EN 60335-1 and produced peacefully from ROHS Standard. Build in temperature cut-off, auto fuses, overheating relays
Fields of application	Heating and air-condition systems Domestic boilers Electric water heaters
Assembly	Depending on application

Example of product design